

KB218116313: Esko ID - Removal of temporary approval and expiry mechanisms

Context

Esko recently introduced the Manage Esko ID self-service management platform at <https://id.esko.com> - where you can manage all the Esko IDs linked to your company. By doing so this renders the concept of 'temporary approval' obsolete.

What will change on September 14th?

Esko IT will remove the temporary approval from all existing Esko ID accounts, and remove the feature from Esko ID websites completely.

Why?

Temporary approvals no longer serve a clear goal since we introduced the self service management of Esko IDs via id.esko.com, and the expired Esko IDs cause real problems for our subscription customers.

As a result, a decision was made to stop making temporary approvals, and to approve all Esko IDs permanently going forward.

This policy also applies to Esko IDs that are not (yet) linked to a company code, such as trial Esko IDs. We will also approve these permanently going forward.

Do note that requests to link an Esko ID to a company code are also properly verified by the Esko ID Support team with the company to which the Esko ID would be linked in the future.

Related articles

- KB93520328: What is Esko ID and why should I get one
- KB259435701: How to confirm your new Esko ID user account
- KB245308271: How to subscribe to Esko product release notifications
- KB218116313: Esko ID - Removal of temporary approval and expiry mechanisms
- KB208234337: Esko ID - Are there any restrictions on the number of Esko IDs I can create for my company?

Article information

Applies to	Esko ID
Created	07 Sep 2018
Last revised	10 Sep 2018
Author	RESA

Contents

- Context
- What will change on September 14th?
- Why?
- Related articles